

Husqvarna BMG 780RC

BMG 780RC is a remote-controlled floor grinder designed for finishing large horizontal surfaces. This machine is equipped as standard with a speed control system. BMG 780RC is operated using a remote control that gives you all relevant information such as Amps, Volt, rpm, etc. In addition, it is battery driven, allowing the operator to go in and out of sites, thanks to a 24V battery drive system and two independent drive motors. In addition, the foot pedal helps you to lift back the machine and then change the tools. It is an ideal machine for polishing and maintaining floors as well thanks to its adjustable grinding pressure.

Efficient dust management

This grinder is equipped as standard with a local dust exhaust of 76 mm diameter, a floating shroud and an extra nozzle for minimised dust exposure on the job site.

Increased productivity with remote control

This triple disc grinder is operated with a remote control where all relevant information (Amps, Volt, rpm, etc) are displayed. You can drive, change the working speed, turn on/off the machine using the remote.

Battery driven

This machine is battery driven, enabling the operator to go in and out of sites, thanks to a 24V battery drive system and two independent drive motors.

Time saving tool change

This floor grinder is standard delivered with the 240 mm diameter Slidemag adapter plates. These allow the Slidemag wings to be easily slid in and out.
